NETWORK COFFEE TABLE

Couchtisch Coffee table

Design: Christian Stoffel, 2016

Inspired by the visit to the observation tower on Killesberg in Stuttgart, Christian Stoffel designed the furniture series NETWORK. Characteristic is the rod, which is centrally placed and retreats through its filigree design. The entire surface of the structure is powder coated in matt black, so that the finely woven wire mesh is perfectly in focus. The shiny stainless steel net is stretched in a lozenge shape and gives the furniture stability and its unique, tapered silhouette. The coffee table is completed in various versions with a timeless table top of polished marble.

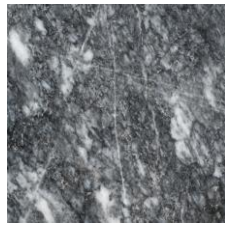

When Christian Stoffel visited the observation tower on Killesberg in Stuttgart, he was immediately inspired to create his furniture series NETWORK. Characteristically, the rod, whose filigree design enhances its unobtrusiveness, is placed in the centre. The complete surface of the structure is powder coated in matt black, emphasizing the finely woven wire mesh. The shiny stainless steel net is stretched in lozenge shape to give the table stability and its unique "Mae West" shape. To complete the elegance of the coffee table it comes with several versions of polished marble tops.
